A significant Australian refinery involving highly hazardous production processes required urgent sourcing of respirator equipment to protect against vapours, acid gases, ammonia derivatives, dusts, mists and fumes.

Within one week, FFF Australia were able to urgently source branded MSA and 3M filter cartridges which prevented production shutdown and costly down-time.

Using our global sourcing network, we identified distributors of 3M and MSA filter cartridges and engaged our local representatives to strictly verify the quality and authenticity of the cartridges.

The high-performance filters provide strong protection against a wide range of toxic gases and particles in full accordance with European standards.

We then acted promptly to secure 600+ filter cartridges and arranged for these to be airfreighted, including further testing to verify allowable levels of active carbon in accordance with international aviation rules.

“We’re very grateful for the swift assistance of FFF Australia. It’s evidence of their reputation as international strategic sourcing specialists with a well-connected global network on which they can draw.”
